

DOUGH'S PRIVACY NOTICE

Effective April 20, 2020

dough LLC (“dough”) is committed to maintaining the confidentiality, integrity and security of personal information about our current and prospective customers. This notice is to inform you of the information we collect and the circumstances in which such information may be disclosed to third parties who are not affiliated with dough.

WHAT DOES DOUGH DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?
Why?	Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do with your personal information.
What?	The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Social Security number and income • Account balances and transaction history • Investment experience and assets
How?	All financial companies need to share customers’ personal information to conduct their everyday business. The section below lists the reasons financial companies can share their customers’ potential information; the reasons dough LLC chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does dough share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes – such as to process your transactions, maintain your account, respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus.	YES	NO
For our marketing purposes – to offer our products and services to you	YES	NO

For joint marketing with other financial companies	NO	We don't share
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your creditworthiness	NO	We don't share
For our affiliates to market to you	NO	We don't share
For nonaffiliates to market to you	NO	We don't share

For questions, email help@dough.com

Who we are?
Who is providing this notice?	This form is provided by dough LLC

What we do
How does dough protect my personal information?	To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.
How does dough collect my personal information?	We collect your information, for example, when you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Open an account or give us your income information; • Make deposits or withdrawals from your account; • Show your government ID. We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.

Other Important Information

California Residents: If your dough account has a California mailing address, we will not share personal information we collect about you except to the extent permitted under California law.

Vermont Residents: If your dough account has a Vermont mailing address, we will not share personal information we collect about you with non-affiliates unless the law allows or you provide authorization.

Additional information concerning our privacy policies can be found at dough.com/privacy-policy/.